

Scout More Efficiently and Communicate Insights that Matter

Cropwise™ Protector from Syngenta can help differentiate your business digitally, enhance grower peace of mind and strengthen your customer relationships. This tool enables you to scout fields and track your notes and photos, so you can make faster agronomic recommendations and your growers can make better decisions.

Customize Your Approach

We offer scouting templates tailored to your business objectives and the unique needs of your growers, so Cropwise Protector can help you turn the data you collect into meaningful insights for your customers. It will help reinforce your role as their local agronomic expert.

It can be used with Cropwise Imagery so you can help your growers address agronomic issues in their fields, so they can realize higher yield potential and be more successful.

Digital Monitoring that Instills Confidence

Scout More Efficiently

- Save time scouting with intuitive and customizable features
- Access georeferencing that tags data to a specific crop zone
- Enter the data and go — Cropwise Protector sorts it for you
- Track observations throughout the field
- Capture photos, notes and voice recordings
- Gain customized pest measurements

Recommend More Confidently

- Track more actions and provide more advanced ratings with customizable automated reports that you can easily send to your growers via text message
- Document steps you've taken and how challenges were responded to in real time — adding an increased level of transparency and collaboration with your growers

"Cropwise Protector gave us a new way to scout for our growers and increase our communication with them. It's enhanced our grower relationships by allowing the grower to have an inside view of what's been scouted and what problems need addressed. We've become more efficient and effective when scouting and it keeps everyone in communication on what's been scouted. Cropwise Protector is user-friendly and a great addition to our scouting at Waukon Feed Ranch."
